Conditions of Pricing Submissions

Thank you for the opportunity to present a pricing submission (estimates, quotations, or pricing schedules) as requested. We value your business and our relationship with you. The following conditions are provided transparently for your review and acknowledgement before acceptance.

Important notice: Due to significant global market volatility, including fluctuating freight costs, currency movements and supply chain variability, we have revised our submission conditions. These changes protect both parties and ensure we can continue to service your needs effectively.

Terms of Trade

All quotations, estimates, pricing submissions and resulting sales are subject to the R. Redpath Limited Terms of Trade current at the effective date of the transaction.

The current Terms of Trade are available at www.redpaths.co.nz and should be read in conjunction with this submission.

Acceptance of this submission and/or placement of an order constitutes acknowledgement and acceptance of the applicable R. Redpath Limited Terms of Trade, including:

- retention of title until payment
- payment by the 20th of the month following the month goods are delivered
- stop supply for credit reasons
- interest on unpaid accounts

In addition:

- Submissions are based on an order for the full quantity of all items and may require revision if part ordered.
- Submission quantities are to be confirmed at the time of ordering.
- Submissions are based on information supplied. It is the contractor's responsibility to ensure all information is correct and that all products submitted align to any specifications or schedules as required.

Product selection and suitability

Pricing submissions, product options, alternatives and recommendations are provided in good faith based on the information supplied to R. Redpath Limited.

Unless expressly agreed otherwise in writing, the provision of a quotation, product option, alternative or recommendation does not constitute a design or specification of the product for its intended application.

The contractor remains responsible for confirming that the products selected are suitable, compliant and appropriate for the actual installation, application and site conditions.

Any design, specification or technical services specifically undertaken by R. Redpath Limited remain subject to the Company's Terms of Trade.

Warranty, installation and associated costs

Manufacturer or supplier warranties apply in accordance with the R. Redpath Limited Terms of Trade. R. Redpath Limited may assist in facilitating a valid warranty claim but does not assume a manufacturer's or supplier's warranty.

Conditions of Pricing Submissions

The contractor remains responsible for correct product selection, installation and compliance with applicable laws, regulations, codes, standards, manufacturer requirements and actual site conditions.

Unless expressly agreed in writing, any warranty or remedy relating to goods does not include labour, removal, disconnection, access, testing, fault finding, reinstallation, recommissioning, travel or other associated costs. All liability remains subject to the limitations contained in the R. Redpath Limited Terms of Trade.

Submissions: validity and pricing conditions

All pricing submissions (estimates, quotations and pricing schedules) remain firm for 7 days from the date shown on the submission.

This validity period has been reduced from 30 days to 7 days in response to current global market conditions, including currency fluctuation, tariff changes and freight cost variability. This is not our preferred position. It is a necessary one, and we appreciate your understanding.

Any submission accepted or confirmed beyond that period, or where delivery schedules extend beyond that window, will require pricing re-confirmation at the time of order placement.

For imported or freight-dependent product lines, any Landed Cost Adjustment Value (LCAV) will be clearly itemised on the submission and reflects variable costs associated with bringing product to New Zealand.

Project, design and technical services

Where R. Redpath Limited provides project support services, including designs, specifications, layouts, take-offs, schedules or technical submissions, these are prepared in good faith and remain subject to the Terms of Trade. These services are generally provided at no additional charge on the understanding that the associated project and product supply will be awarded through R. Redpath Limited.

If this information is distributed externally for competitive pricing purposes, or used to secure supply through alternative parties without prior agreement, R. Redpath Limited reserves the right to recover reasonable preparation costs.

General conditions

Submissions are quoted in NZD and are exclusive of GST. Submissions are confidential and supplied to the intended recipient only. R. Redpath Limited reserves the right to withdraw any submission if this condition is not met.

All final submissions outside standard rates exclude marketing initiatives, rebates and PowerPoints unless agreed in writing by both parties before acceptance.

Lead times and supply periods

Lead times and delivery schedules are indicative only. Manufacturing timelines and freight delivery may be outside R. Redpath Limited's control. Acceptance of an order does not constitute a guarantee of delivery date.

Conditions of Pricing Submissions

Alternatives

Where shown on a submission, an alternative product has been used in place of the specified item. Alternatives are offered in good faith and will be clearly identified. The contractor remains responsible for confirming suitability before ordering and installation.

Return of goods

R. Redpath Limited reserves the right to accept or reject any request for goods to be returned. Non-stock or specifically purchased items may incur restocking, freight and handling charges. Specifically manufactured or indent goods ordered for a project cannot be returned or credited.

Freight

Freight costs are passed on as made available to R. Redpath Limited and are not included in the cost of goods unless clearly stipulated on the submission. Any variation requires written mutual agreement before ordering.
